PANEL LIGHTS

LED PANEL LIGHTS

LED panel lights replace old fluorescent ceiling lights in offices and retail premises. The LED panels are much thinner and emit more lumens, giving you more brightness per wattage compared to an older lighting system.

The panels are placed within aluminium housing and quality plastic materials to ensure that the light runs efficiently as possible.

The aluminium housing helps to keep all the internals together within a lightweight casing which also helps to ensure cooling is achieved and the lights run at an optimal temperature.

We have different options available, in single colour and multi-colour options including new ultra thin panels, recessed and surface mounted models.
